

Elias Weldemichael

Full stack developer

I am an Electrical and Electronics engineer graduated from Eritrean Institute of Technology with Physics as my major. I pursued my diploma in Full stack web development from HackYourFuture, Copenhagen. I love exploring new technologies and often amazed by the progress we as a human species have made so far in recent years!! Since my arrival to Denmark as a refugee in 2015, I have been involving actively through many activities among those internships, unskilled jobs, learning new techs, learning language and work culture.
